Notes to Catalogue 156

The objective of this catalogue is to offer a selection of books that are highly attractive and in superb condition so as to be suitable as gifts. So this is not a listing of collectable first editions or obscure war-time relics. Rather, it is mostly books from the past 25 years, most of which are deluxe or limited editions and some of which are signed by the author(s).

The catalogue is organised in sections of books either by the same publisher or in a specific category such as author signed. Each section starts with an overview of that publisher's offerings and then lists specific titles, some of which have multiple choices in condition. The most expensive are usually either sealed or boxed, but bear in mind that these only make sense for collectors who will hide such treasures away rather than display them.

The first two pages provide a selection of sets of Churchill books that are not expensive first editions, but all are attractive and readable.

You will, of course, recognize some of the books from past catalogues. I am constantly trying to restock these type of items, but not always successful. You will notice many prices reduced from prior years.

A recommended technique is to circle desired items and then leave this catalogue out where Santa may be able to view it. Best Holiday wishes to you all.

Popular sets of Churchill Books

- 1 A History of the English-Speaking Peoples, 12 volume set School edition. This set of 12 small hardcover volumes (5 x 8 inches) is abridged for young people and includes numerous photos. An essential part of every Churchill collection, and often missing from otherwise exhaustive collections. These 4 volumes are bound in quarter dark blue leather, top edges gilt, blue marbled endpapers, Garter arms blocked in gilt on covers, placemarkers, archival paper. etc. A fine fresh set shows no signs of being read. There are no names or markings in the text. This is an original 1976 set so the gilt top edges are thin in spots .

7 The World Crisis, full set of six This set was issued by Scribner's in the 60's and 70's. The text is unabridged and illustrations have been added. Bound in medium blue cloth, with pictorial dj's printed red, blue, and black on white stock. Books are about 5.5 x 8.5 inches, similar to US firsts. Sales must have been slow as this set is far scarcer than its recent vintage would indicate. See Langworth p. 110-111. The final two volumes are simply called volumes V and VI, with no mention of The Aftermath or The Unknown War. A good value set for those wanting to read the entire work in a uniform edition with the added bonus of photos which were not in the first edition. A near fine set in exceptionally bright unfaded dustjackets. . Books are crisp, unmarked except blemishes on foreedges of vol. 5, bookplate in vol. I only. The dustjackets are unclipped except vol. V, strong readable red on spines, some minor wear and losses at spine ends. . 400.00

rebound by Bayntun of Bath in their signature full red leather binding, with all the little details you expect and the finest hand applied gilt edges to be found. 10 The Great War, bound in 3 volumes The Great War is actually an abridged and heavily illustrated version of The World Crisis, which was originally issued as 26 fortnightly parts or magazines. Most copies were later bound in binding cases available from the publishers. The most popular is bound in this smooth cloth of royal blue with elaborate gilt and blind stamping featuring an exploding globe motif on the spines. The Folio Society

The Folio Society is a book club based In London whose objective is to provide superior books to a discriminating membership. Founded in 1947, the club issues a book each month, and occasional specials and sets. Folio Society books are not intended to be cheaper than trade editions, but rather better, in many ways. It starts with selection of titles for publication. Pop culture and bestsellers are out. The emphasis has traditionally been on literature and history, with some occasional exceptions. Book design is what they do best. Every aspect of the book is considered starting with the paper and the font style. Special illustrations are often commissioned specifically for these editions. A new forward may be in order. The bindings are works of art: sometimes historical, sometimes modern, maybe illustrated, always original. Some of the early books had dustjackets, but now nearly all books or sets are supplied in matching slipcases, and even these are sometimes illustrated or decorated. These lovely books are little known in the US, so missing in many collections. Any of these books are a visual delight that make great gifts at prices far less than first editions.

The Easton Press

The Easton Press is the market leader in mass-produced leather bound books. The company provides beautiful books with a number of features at very good prices. The books are typically bound in full leather, elaborately stamped in gold, with raised bands on the spines, all edges gilded, satin endpapers, placemarkers, and archival grade papers. The books hold their value, sometimes selling for astonishing prices on Ebay. Although very well made and bound, the books are intended more for display than reading; as the gold stamping tends to stain from finger oils if the books are held for reading. This can be overcome by using clear mylar covers, which I can supply at no extra cost if requested. A few shelves of Easton Press books can form the focus of an impressive library.

The Second World War This 6 volume set was Easton's first Churchill offering, published in 1989. Bound in full black leather with complex gilt stampings on covers, titles in red panels on spines. Whilst not a first edition, the stunning appearance of these books makes an ideal gift for Churchill enthusiast.

Levenger Press

Levenger is best known for its catalogues of bookcases and tools for readers. A few years ago, they began publishing a small number of premium editions of books. Churchill collectors have been blessed by the inclusion of more Churchill titles than any other subject. Their first production was a limited edition of 1500 copies that sold out immediately. Subsequent publications have not been numbered, but all seem to sell out, making them appealing to collectors. Not being publishers primarily, Levenger does not issue dustjackets, but does seem to like silver-colored gift boxes for the books. Of course, none of these were ever sold in bookshops.

Sir Winston Churchill's Life Through His Paintings, by David Coombs and Minnie Churchill. The first Levenger production and by far the finest. Issued in a numbered edition of 1500 copies, it uses the text of the trade edition, but bound in full blue leather with a matching slipcase. Unknown to many, the book was issued in a protective cloth bag, all contained in a silver gift box with green excelsior. The box was very thin and cracked easily, and most were discarded. Levenger learned from this and subsequent books had thicker stiff gift boxes.

48. Clean unworn book in its slipcase. $200.00

49. A complete package, book in slipcase, within Levenger cloth bag, all in the silver box, which has wrinkles and cracks as usual. $350.00

The Making of the Finest Hour, June 18 1940. This may be the most interesting of the Levenger publications. Using Churchill's original marked up drafts of this famous speech, the book shows how Churchill prepared and polished his speech. Beautifully reproduced facsimiles, photo endpapers, and a CD of the broadcast make this a treat.

50. Fine clean book, seems unused. $30.00

51. As new in Levenger gift box. $75.00

The Dream. THE DREAM, Churchill's haunting essay about an imaginary (?) reunion with his father, originally written in 1947, was first published in the SUNDAY TELEGRAPH on 31 January, 1966. This deluxe edition was published by Levenger in 2005, bound in medium blue leather (ette?), 8.5 inches square, drawing by Sarah Churchill tipped onto front cover, printed in two colors with huge margins, afterword by Churchill's Grandson Winston.

52. As new in silver Levenger gift box. $75.00

The Happy Warrior. Based on a 1950s book published in England by The Eagle, a comic, this is really a color cartoon strip telling the story of Churchill.

53. As new still sealed in shrinkwrap. $45.00

54. Fine book, seems unused $30.00

55. The Levenger desk box with Churchill Painting.

The lid of this 7.5 x 7 in. jewelry box has a painting of the Atlas Mountains by WSC. Comes with note cards, a message from Minnie C., all in original Levenger shipping box. Very nice, very scarce, sold out quickly in 2009.

New old (or old new) Books

Over the years, I have purchased quantities of various Churchill books when they were published. In some cases I still have some of these brand new books in stock, some now over 20 years old. This is like shopping with a time machine. In all cases, condition is as-new.

For Free Trade & Mr. Brodrick's Army The two great Churchill rarities, these facsimile reprints were produced in 1977 by The Churchilliana Co. of Sacramento (Dal Newfield) and are technically the first American editions. The original works in red card wraps are faithfully reproduced and 5 additional pages are added at the front including a preface by Manfred Weidhorn. The endpapers reproduce Churchill's entry in Who's Who, the longest ever, that take almost a full page to get around to a minor detail like a Nobel Prize. Both titles available in either a standard binding of brick red cloth, or a deluxe binding of buckram spine over yellow cloth sides.

56. Mr. Brodrick's Army standard binding. $10.00.

57. For Free Trade standard binding. $10.00

58. For Free Trade deluxe binding. $25.00

62. The Story of the Malakand Field Force. Modern reprint, B&N badging of the Norton edition, both editions now out of print. $10.00

63. The River War. London, Prion, 1997. Published price was £9.95, now out of print. This a recent reprint in an attractive large size paperback, 6.5 x 8.5 inches, colourful painting of charge at Omdurman on cover, index, photos. This is the first paperback edition to be illustrated with photos. From the "Lost Treasures" series of reprints. $8.00

64. The Medallic Portraits of Sir Winston Churchill. Spink & Son, London, 1972 I bought out the publisher's stock about 20 years ago. This copy is new. The Standard reference on Churchill coins and medals. Detailed descriptions including weights, quantities, and photos of each medal. $12.00

65. Winston S. Churchill War Correspondent 1895-1900, edited by Frederick Woods , published 1992 by Brassey's. This revised edition based on Young Winston's Wars, is important as editor Fred Woods has added the despatches from Cuba of 1895, making these documents easily available to all. 355 pages with index, bound in black cloth, in a turquoise dustwrapper. $20.00

66. Sir Winston Churchill's Life Through his Paintings, By David Coombs with Minnie Churchill and a foreword by Mary Soames, the English 1st has a far nicer DJ than the US. Chaucer Press, 2003. A superb update of Coombs 1967 catalogue of Churchill's painting, now with hundreds of colour photos of the paintings. $45.00

67. Bibliography of the Writings of Sir Winston Churchill in 3 vols, by Ron Cohen. At last, after 22 years of research, Ron Cohen's definitive and comprehensive bibliography of Churchill's writings published 2006. This is without doubt the ultimate in bibliographic detail on Churchill's works. The author has located and described in detail more than 350 books and pamphlets by Churchill, over 1200 articles, and some 1250 "letters to the editor", plus contributions to over 700 other works. These are large volumes, nearly 7 x 10 inches. I recommend this book to any collector whose interests go beyond the basic 50 books by Churchill. This is the ultimate reference to speech pamphlets, forewords and similar contributions, and magazine articles. It is also the final word on matters such as quantities published and questions of what edition came first. The photo shows my well used set, not the new set sealed in publishers carton on offer. $750.00

68. Churchill A Concise Bibliography, by B.B. Barrett. This book covers books both by and about Churchill. It is an excellent tool for those seeking books on a particular aspect of Churchill, with numerous subject categories. You can read my detailed review in FINEST HOUR 109. Clothbound issued without dj, 215 pages. List price $112.50, lowest price on Amazon $96.85. Brand new copy. $25.00.

Here is a brand new British first edition signed by the author on the title page. $45.00

71. The Book of Churchilliana, by Douglas Hall. This book is without doubt the best guide to Churchilliana, written by long time collector Douglas Hall.
